DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-12 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. US 6,609,448. The claims of the instant application teaches most of the elements of the patented claims except for a headstock guide unit, a first cam and a second cam. On the other hand, it would have been obvious to delete these features from the machine tool in the patent for the purpose of making the tool more economical to produce.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 7 and 8 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rollier.

Regarding claims 1 and 7, Rollier teaches in figures 1-7 a machine tool comprising a fixed bed (framework—col. 2, line 49), a pair of tool posts (18, 20), the tool posts being mounted on at least one carriage (17), a headstock on the fixed bed (11), a headstock base (10) having the headstock disposed thereon (fig. 2).

Regarding claims 4 and 8, Rollier further teaches the at least one carriage comprising two carriages (fig.2—17, 22), one being disposed on the left side of the fixed bed and the other being disposed on the right side of the fixed bed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 3, 5, 6 and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rollier in view of Romi or Frank et al.

Rollier teaches in the figures most of the elements of the claimed invention. However, Rollier fails to teach a collecting opening and tunnel in the fixed bed. Romi teaches a turning machine that has a bed and base that allows the free flow of a large volume of chips removed during machining (Abstract, lines 22-28). Frank et al teaches a machine tool having a chip-removing conveyor 26. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate a collecting opening and tunnel as taught by Romi or Frank et al in the fixed bed of Rollier for the purpose collecting chips.
